Public Hearing: Mayor's Preliminary Budget for Fiscal Year 2024

MCB4 Budget Task Force Chair Leslie Boghosian-Murphy opened a public hearing regarding the Mayor's preliminary budget for FY 2024. She explained the process for preparing the Community Board's Statement of District Needs, and explained the letter that will be voted on later this evening, which is the Community Board's response to the Mayor's budget as it relates to the Statement of District Needs. There were no speakers from the public about this issue, so the hearing was closed.

Public Hearing: MCB4 Comments on New York State Office of Cannabis Management Regulations for Adult Use of Cannabis

Jesse Greenwald, Chair of the MCB4 Cannabis Working Group, opened the public hearing to get the public's input on the MCB4 letter to the NYS Office of Cannabis Management (OCM) (Item 25) regarding the proposed regulations for cannabis adult use, retail dispensaries and on-site consumption lounges. No one from the public signed up to speak on this topic so the public hearing was closed.

Public Session Speakers

John Contreras (Chelsea Recreation Center)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Chelsea Recreation Center will host a paint night event on February 10. The event is free and families are encouraged to attend. • The Chelsea Recreation Center also hosts free youth sports including soccer, floor hockey, and lacrosse, and membership is free under age 24.
Lisa Wager (Fashion Institute of Technology)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is a new exhibit at the Museum at FIT opening on February 7 celebrating the birth of hip-hop. There will a related symposium on the FIT campus open to the public on February 24. The museum is free and open to the public Wednesday through Sunday.

Remarks from Elected Officials and Representatives

Tony Simone, State Assemblymember	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Affordable Housing: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ we need to become builders and creators of housing – not just for low income but for the middle class working folks, so they can live and work in our district. ○ we also need to make sure that the tenants that already live here are protected, which is why I am fighting for good cause eviction and other protective measures. ● Penn Station: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ The current plan is unacceptable. It is a development plan but I'm fighting for it to be an infrastructure transportation plan. ○ The current plan is too reliant on private development. ○ We don't need 10 new office towers by Penn Station. ● Casinos <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ I am philosophically opposed to a casino in Manhattan, so I will view any and all plans with skepticism.
Olivia Glen-Rayner, Office of Congressmember Jerrold Nadler	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Congressman Nadler's office is continuing to learn and connect with constituents and organizations in our new district (NY-12). At the same time, we are helping new elected officials transition into parts of our old district. ● Congressman Nadler has been active in his new role as Ranking Member of the House Judiciary Committee. In DC this week, he has been working hard to constitute the Committee which includes naming Representatives to the Committee and assigning appropriate Sub-Committees. ● Now that Democrats are in the minority in the House, Congressman Nadler is using his voice to stand up against Republican overreach. He is fervently advocating against Republican attempts to cut social security and Medicare and their crusade to pass a national abortion ban. ● The Congressmember joined City and State Elected Officials from the East Side in expressing concern to the NYC Landmarks Preservation Committee on the placement of 5G towers throughout NY-12. ● Constituents can reach out to Olivia Glen-Rayner (Olivia.Glen-Rayner@mail.house.gov) with any concerns.
Robin Frost, Mayor's Office of Community Affairs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● I joined the Mayor's Office last month. ● I understand that there are a lot of questions about the single adult asylum seekers who have been moved from the Watson Hotel to the Cruise Ship Terminal in Brooklyn; and about the families of asylum seekers that will be moving into the Watson Hotel. ● As of today, there are about 600 people who have been moved from the Watson Hotel to the Cruise Ship Terminal. There are still a couple of hundred people to be moved out of the Watson Hotel. For asylum seekers who have relatives or other connection with whom they can live, the City is being very diligent to provide transportation, including plane tickets, to help people relocate while they are waiting for the asylum applications. ● As for the conditions at the Cruise Terminal, there are bathrooms for every 15 people (a City standard), and lots of showers. There are busses running for free every hour to Barclays Center for people to access the subways, and the ferry is next to the Cruise Terminal and also convenient. ● Going forward, the Watson Hotel has been earmarked to provide housing to families of asylum seekers – not single adults. We have a great need for housing for families.
Eric Bottcher, City Councilmember	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● I visited today the Brooklyn Cruise Ship Terminal where hundreds of single adult asylum seekers were moved from the Watson Hotel. The Terminal is only a temporary site (only for 12 weeks) because it will be a cruise terminal again when

	the cruising season starts. I continue to be impressed by the way that NY Health and Hospitals run their sites. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Every elementary school in our District has enrolled students whose families are seeking asylum, but there are still shortages of Spanish-speaking staff. The schools have the money to hire, but Spanish-speaking educators are in short supply. • We had a hearing recently on my resolution calling on the Department of Education to implement and fulfill its obligation to offer bike education classes in all schools, as they are required to by state law. • The Mayor signed our legislation regarding single-use plastics. As a result, when anyone orders takeout, they will have to proactively check the box in order to have plastic cutlery included in their order.
Mark Levine, Manhattan Borough President	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It was great to see so many of you last night in the crowd of more than 500 people who attended the annual State of the Borough presentation. • Little known fact: Manhattan's population is up almost four percent compared to pre-pandemic. • We must build more affordable housing, and we have identified 171 properties in Manhattan where such housing can be built. Many are owned by the City or by City agencies. • We have a really successful, multi-agency, coordinated effort on 125th Street that we believe could serve as a model to address some of the safety concerns in Hell's Kitchen. This effort on the eastern part of 125th street has brought together the local police precinct, the Department of Homeless Services, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the DOT, the Parks Department, and the District Attorney's office. It has been incredibly effective at making that part of 125th Street, safer, healthier, greener than it's been in years. I am calling for this multi-agency model to be replicated in Hell's Kitchen, because you face some of the same problems that we've been seeing on 125th and actually I've been speaking this week to DA Alvin Bragg, who was also extremely supportive of implementing this. • We are working to create a Waterfront Protection Agency to address waterfront resiliency issues. • Another climate resiliency measure we are supporting as a way to fight climate change is the planting of a million more trees in NYC. We are asking Community Boards to pass resolutions to support this tree planting goal. I hope that MCB4 will provide such a resolution! • My office is also focused on composting. We want every single residential building in Manhattan to have composting pick-up. While that will take time to become a reality, I hope to see more of the orange composting bins that are on sidewalks in other neighborhoods come to CB4. They are locked and can be accessed with an app on your phone so that you can put your composting in them.
