	Reports From Elected Officials
NYC Council Member Erik Bottcher	 We had a big win with the indictment of Daniel Ohebshalom, named the worst landlord in NYC. We worked hard to make sure that this slumlord would be held accountable, and he is in Riker's Island now. I am going to make sure that the approval process for any casino gaming licenses in our District has utmost public input and that the Community Board has to issue recommendations before the State review process even starts. I look forward to partnering closely with Community Board 4 on this issue
NYC Comptroller Brad Lander, presented by Evelin Collado	 The Comptroller's Office is proud to have partnered with dozens of organizations to launch Homes Now, Homes for Generations—a city-focused affordable housing campaign for the Fiscal Year 2025 budget cycle. The Homes Now, Homes for Generation campaign aims to quadruple the City's investment in affordable homeownership (through investing in NYC Department of Housing & Preservation Development's (HPD) Open Door program) and make good on the City's promise from 2018 to prevent the displacement of tenants by preserving 7,000 rent-stabilized units (through revitalizing HPD's Neighborhood Pillars Program). Our office launched a new dashboard, Charting Homelessness in NYC, which tracks New York City's shelter population — broken down by family type, age, and race, factors leading to homelessness like eviction filings, and shelter exits with housing vouchers. The dashboard will automatically update at regular intervals.
NY State Assemblymember Tony Simone, presented by Ben Lowenstein	 We finally have a deal on the state budget and here are some highlights on housing. This deal, while by no means perfect, lays the groundwork to begin addressing the housing emergency. We must increase supply, and this deal will do that through a new Mitchell Lama program, incentives for affordable housing development and office conversions and transforming currently vacant state-owned sites into housing. The Assemblymember thanks MCB4 for its years of forward-thinking leadership on housing issues.
	 Our office is very pleased by the new enforcement mechanisms for illegal cannabis shops. We are very pleased, after much advocacy, that Sammy's Law was included in the state budget. This law will allow New York City to lower its speed limit to 20 miles per hour on nearly every road, which will reduce the risk of death or life-threatening injury in a crash. The legislation was named for Sammy Cohen Eckstein, a 12-year-old child who died in 2013 after he was hit by a driver in Brooklyn.

US Congress member Jerrold Nadler, presented by Hannah Wienerman	• The Congressman introduced the Protecting Communities from Helicopter Noise Act. This bill directs the FAA to study helicopter noise within a 15 mile radius of the Statue of Liberty and examine potential solutions for diverting helicopters away from residential and recreational areas.
	• The Congressman applauds the EEOC for finalizing the rule implementing the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act, a bill that he fought for years to get passed, which includes abortion in its definition of employer accommodations required for "pregnancy, child birth or related medical conditions."
	• We joined the chorus of local elected officials in condemning the appalling resolution 248 passed by the Community Education Council District 2 that targets transgender girls in sports. Our trans students have the same right to participate in sports like all other students.
NYC Mayor Eric Adam's Office, presented by Robin Forst	 New York City public schools will implement a curriculum designed to teach students in grades 6-12 about hate crimes and bias incidents and their impact on individuals and communities. The curriculum titled 'Teaching About Hate Crimes and their Impacts' includes five lessons on diversity, critical thinking, and civic engagement. Students will learn to identify motives and behaviors that cause hate crimes, examine the impacts of current hate crime trends on communities and design initiatives that promote inclusion and collective action. The Mayor recently launched the public review period for the City of Yes Housing Opportunity. We are looking to create a little more housing in every neighborhood in the city with carefully created zoning changes, and hopefully this will alleviate the housing crunch and build a more hospitable, habitable City.

Board Reports & Business
Adoption of Agenda and Minutes	The Agenda was adopted unanimously. The April Full Board Minutes were adopted unanimously.
District Manager Report	 MCB4 Hybrid Meeting Policy remains in effect with no changes. Arts, Culture, Education, and Schools Committee will be meeting on Monday, May 6th rather than the 2nd Monday of the month. The Executive Committee will meet on Tuesday, May 28th. All other Committees are meeting on their regular scheduled dates and times
Chair's Report	 Thanks to Jesse, our District Manager, for all of his hardworking contributions, especially for arranging tonight's translation services for the public session. The State has concluded its budget process, and we will be unpacking what that means for our District in the next several weeks, so let's put a pin in that. The Port Authority Bus Terminal Working Group has been meeting regularly for a long time, and now the plan is on an expedited timeline to ensure the availability of federal financing. We are hopeful that the Port

- Authority will be coming to the June meeting of the Chelsea/Hell's Kitchen Land Use Committee for the ULURP.
- The Department of City Planning is presenting tomorrow (May 2) to the HHHS Committee about the City of Yes Housing Opportunity, so please attend if possible to provide your feedback.
- Hudson River Trust is beginning the process for the redesign of the esplanade. We expect them to present to WPE soon.
- We've adopted a monthly meeting schedule to advance the discussions of the NYCHA Proposal, and we continue to meet monthly.
- As we heard from City Councilmember Bottcher, the Citywide Casino Text Amendment passed, and we look forward to hearing from him how MCB4 will stay actively involved in any approval processes.
- The Vessel will be re-opening with increased safety measures. We've heard that they plan to charge for admission, which is contradictory to the original proposed use of the space, so we hope to have further input on this change before it is finalized. There is no date yet for the re-opening.
- We expect to receive the names of the new MCB4 members before the end of the month.
